Questlove may be one of the only DJ's with enough musical knowledge to pull this one off. If you have ever been to a Questlove DJ set, you know his musical selection alone makes his sets worth indulging. Next Tuesday, September 10th Questlove will be spinning three hours of tunes by artists who have passed due to taking their own lives. The party that will take place in Brooklyn, is to honor the book release of Killing Williamsburg by Bradley Spinneli.

In a press release about the event Spinneli explained "Some people burn bright and blow out, so let's celebrate the wonderful music of people who exited too early. Nirvana, the Plasmatics, maybe some INXS? I'm sure Questlove will throw us some curves."

This should be one for the record books...

Mixes: DJ 100 Proof "Backyard BBQ:
Volume 8"
